THE CURTAIN FALLS ON ANOTHER SEASON

On Saturday, August 27, the curtain will fall on the final performance of the Cape Playhouse's thirty-fourth season. We are proud and delighted to announce the plays presented this year have made the season one of the most successful in the history of the Playhouse.

In the past weeks some of the most distinguished stars on the American stage, as well as from Hollywood and television, have appeared here in plays geared for their variety and entertainment values: Betsy Palmer, Joan Fontaine, Howard Keel, Julia Meade, Russell Nype, Edward Mulhare, Keefe Brasselle, Sylvia Sidney and the stars of tonight's play, Pat Carroll and Philip Abbott. We wish now to express our heartfelt thanks to all of them and to their supporting casts for making the season an exciting experience.

This, needless to say, could not have been possible without the creative genius of the playwright himself. We would therefore like to mention with strong appreciation the brilliant talent of Dore Schary for "Sunrise at Campobello," to William Inge for "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," and to William Gibson for "Two For the Seesaw." Their plays, which rank among the most important written in recent years, added stature and prominence to the Playhouse season and were both an honor and privilege to produce.

We also wish to thank members of the Cape Playhouse staff for their dedicated attention to executive and technical detail during the summer, for their good taste and workmanship and above all for their exceptionally high standards of professionalism. To all of them we also give our most grateful thanks.

We would like to remind you of a special and exciting addition to our regular schedule. Next week, beginning Monday, August 29 through Saturday, September 3, the Raymond Moore Foundation will present this year's young actor trainees at the American Theatre Wing—Cape Playhouse Professional Training Center in their production of "Kind Lady," Edward Chodorov's celebrated mystery-melodrama. All profits realized from this production will go to the Raymond Moore Foundation Scholarship Fund for the purpose of expanding the Training Center next year. Your support in this vital project would be sincerely appreciated.

As the season draws to a close we are already preparing for our thirty-fifth anniversary which will get underway next year on Saturday July 1. Plans are being made to make it an unforgettable season in commemoration of more than a quarter of a century of producing distinguished summer theatre in a Playhouse renowned as an American theatre institution.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

William Gibson was born in the Highbridge section of Bronx, New York, in 1914. He was educated in the New York City public schools, at Townsend Harris Hall, and at the City College of New York. He is familiar for his novel, "The Cobweb" (which was also made into a movie), and for his successful television play, "The Miracle Worker," now in its second year as one of Broadway's long-run hits. His other published work includes a short verse play, "I Lay in Zion" (1947); a volume of poems, "Winter Crook" (1948); and numerous poems and short stories in such periodicals as The American Scholar, Poetry, The New Yorker, Harper's Bazaar, and Partisan Review. His chronicle of the stage production of "Two For The See-

PAT CARROLL (Gittel Mosca) climaxed a spectacular television career in 1956 when she was awarded an "Emmy," television's highest honor, for her hilarious portrayals on the Sid Caesar Show. For the past two years she has been a guest star on ABC's panel show, "Keep Talking." Miss Carroll was born in Louisiana, but raised in Los Angeles. After college, which was followed by a brief teaching career coupled with free-lance radio acting, she moved to New York City. From 1947 to 1949 she appeared in nearly 200 stock productions and was in charge of a show which traveled to many Army camps. In "Talent '50," an off-Broadway production, her comic talents were discovered by Julius Monk, entrepreneur of New York's top supper club at that time, Le Ruban Bleu. She subsequently appeared at the club as well as at New York's famed Blue Angel and the Village Vanguard. During the summers she performed at Camp Taminent, finishing school of Danny Kaye and Judy Holliday. It was here that she met her future husband, Lee Karsian, who is now a talent executive for the William Morris Agency. Her brilliant characterizations on the Red Buttons Show in 1952 ignited her television career and she went on to appear on the shows of Jimmy Durante, Mickey Rooney, Ann Sothern, George Gobel and Dennis Day. Featured with Maurice Chevalier, Perry Como, Buddy Hackett and Jeanie Carson, she also entertained on Producer's Showcase and several Max Liebman "Spectaculars."

She returned to Broadway in 1955 in "To Catch A Star," and won critical acclaim in the revival of "On The Town," produced on Broadway last year. Miss Carroll has guested on such shows as Tennessee Ernie Ford, Pat Boone, Patrice Munsel, Masquerade Party and Jack Paar.

Recently she completed a season in summer stock, starring in "The Desk Set." In October she will be seen with Shirley Jones, Jackie Cooper and Hans Conried in another Max Liebman television spectacular. This week marks Miss Carroll's first Cape Playhouse appearance.

PHILIP ABBOTT (Jerry Ryan) appeared many times as Henry Fonda's stand-by in the Broadway production of tonight's play. Earlier this summer he co-starred in the play opposite Sheree North at the Bucks County Playhouse. He also appeared on Broadway opposite Anne Baxter in Carson McCullers' "The Square Root of Wonderful," which was directed by Jose Quintero. A noted actor of motion pictures and television, Mr. Abbott co-starred in the Hecht-Lancaster film "The Bachelor" (he played the bachelor) with Don Murray, and in "The Invisible Boy," produced by MGM. Television viewers have seen him in starring roles on most major shows, from Philco Playhouse, U. S. Steel Hour, Studio One and Kraft Theatre, among others, to his most recent appearance in "Diagnosis Unknown" on CBS. He also starred in the afternoon series "House On High Street" on NBC. This week marks Mr. Abbott's first appearance at the Cape Playhouse.

THE DUNES RESTAURANT, located on Route 6A in Sandwich, boasts of the "most talked about lobster on Cape Cod." Their lobster is extraordinary. As they will proudly attest, they use one third pound of butter for every lobster. They also take pride in their delicious steamed clams and many other seafood dishes, but all their food is more than praiseworthy—at The Dunes every dish is a specialty! Their cheerful pine-panelled dining room affords a magnificent view of nine miles of uninterrupted dunes and the ocean beyond.

Open year round, they are comfortably air-conditioned in summer and, in winter, add to their warmth and charm of atmosphere with a roaring fire in their rustic stone fireplace. Their Las Vegas Bar sparkles with the glamour of its namesake and offers a pianist entertaining

A visit to the OLD MILL, in Westminster, is a delightful sojourn into traditional New England atmosphere. New England style food at its best is served here in a refreshing rustic setting. With its cool terraces surrounded by statuesque trees and enhanced by the sparkling millstream running alongside, the Old Mill provides a beautiful setting in which to enjoy dinner and cocktails. Also included in the Old Mill is a village store replete with a variety of gifts and curios.

AMERICAN THEATRE WING — CAPE PLAYHOUSE PROFESSIONAL TRAINING CENTER

July 5 to September 3
at Dennis

The "Training Center" is an intensive summer extension of the Professional Training Program of the American Theatre Wing carried on the rest of the year in New York City.

The American Theatre Wing is a non-profit organization which includes every important element of the theatre world—actors, producers, directors, critics, the Actors Equity Association and the stagehands union all giving both time and money for the benefit of and to raise the standards of the theatre in America. Miss Helen Menken is president, having succeeded Miss Helen Hayes; Miss Gertrude Lawrence, so well-known to Cape Playhouse audiences was First Vice-President when she died in 1952.

The Training Center is under the direction of Dr. Frank C. Davidson. The students have been chosen for outstanding abilities and promise of successful stage careers by a distinguished committee in New York.

This unique project in theatre education is being financed by the Raymond Moore Foundation and by individual contributors.

RAYMOND MOORE FOUNDATION, INC.

A non-profit corporation for educational and charitable purposes, chartered by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in 1948, and organized pursuant to the will of the late Raymond Moore who founded the Playhouse in 1927.

The Cape Playhouse previously controlled by the Raymond Moore Foundation is now wholly owned by the Foundation and is being operated solely for the benefit of the public and for the theatre education. The Foundation also owns the Cape Cimena, the Cape Playhouse Restaurant and the Art Center, in which the American Theatre Wing—Cape Playhouse Professional Training Center is located.
